NHS Wales Logo Guidelines for Primary Care Contractors

July 2025 Version 1

This document is designed to provide guidance on NHS Wales logo use for primary care contractors in Wales, particularly those offering both private and NHS services. It should be used in conjunction with the current NHS Wales Logo Guidelines:

How you can use the NHS Wales logo	11

Research shows that people find it helpful and reassuring when they see the NHS Identity applied to primary care services. Therefore, whilst primary care contractors are not contractually required to use the NHS identity, they are encouraged to do so to raise awareness of the NHS services they provide and to signpost patients and the public to them. The exception is pharmacies, which are required to include the NHS logo in their practice leaflets.

Patients and the public see the NHS as a single, national, unified service and expect and want the NHS identity to be applied in a consistent and uniform way – it reassures them that they can rely on the quality of healthcare being provided wherever they access it. Therefore, in Wales a single NHS Wales logo has been developed for all primary care contractors to use.

These guidelines have been jointly developed by Community Pharmacy Wales and Optometry Wales who are commissioned under a primary care contract. They have been reviewed and agreed by Welsh Government policy officials. They should be used in conjunction with the NHS Wales Logo Guidelines:

<https://assets.service.gov.wales/asset-page/171326-26303-new-nhs-wales-guidelines-e>

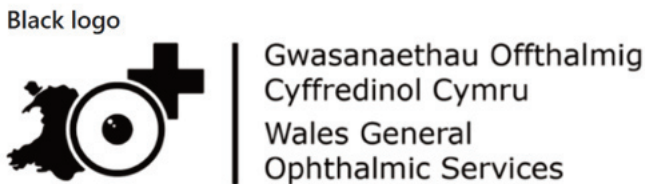

Contractors have the option to use the NHS Wales Logo with or without the descriptor line “Providing NHS Services” which indicates that some, but not necessarily all of the services available from a primary care contractor are NHS funded. Examples are provided below:

For more guidance relating to colour, placement, sizing and compatible fonts, please refer to the NHS Wales Logo Guidelines.

The position and size of the NHS Wales logo

Ideally, the NHS Wales logo should be positioned in the top right on information relating to the NHS services you provide, and on materials used to signpost patients and the public to them. This is where patients and the public expect to see the NHS logo. However, we appreciate this will not always be possible, if for example, your own logo appears in the top right position. On websites, the NHS Wales logo should not appear in the top banner, as this would mean it would appear on all pages, rather than those which are solely about NHS services.

The NHS Wales logo should always be large enough to be clearly visible to patients and the public. However, it should never be larger than your own logo if you have one. It needs to be proportionate to show that some, but not necessarily all, of the services you provide are NHS funded.

Where you can use the NHS Wales logo

The NHS Wales logo can only be used on information relating to the NHS services you provide, and to signpost patients and the public to them. Applications include, but are not limited to:

- Signage: facias and window vinyls.
- Stationery: (e.g. letters, envelopes) - for communications which are about your NHS services. On envelopes, the NHS Wales logo will need to go bottom right as the stamp or franking will need to go top right.
- Leaflets and posters: which are about your NHS services.
- Appointment cards.
- Prescription labels and bags: due to the size of prescription labels, this is the only application where the NHS logo can be used on its own, if the NHS primary care logo won't fit with the lettering at a legible size. Please see the guidance on NHS logo for relative sizing.
- Name badges: for staff who primarily deliver NHS services.
- Uniforms: for staff who primarily deliver NHS services.
- Vehicle: you can use a permanent sign provided they are only used for your NHS service. If your vehicles have multiple uses, you should use temporary signage.
- Websites: the NHS Wales logo can be used on the homepage of your website to link to those webpages which are solely about your NHS services, which can also carry the NHS primary care logo.
- Recruitment advertising: for staff who will primarily be delivering NHS services.

Here are some examples of how the NHS Wales logo can be used on the applications listed on the previous page.

SORE THROAT

SORE THROAT RELIEF SERVICE.

Do you have sore throat or tonsillitis?
Fferyllwyr Llŷn can help you by giving expert advice and treatment.

➔ Free NHS Wales service

WHAT DOES THE SERVICE OFFER?
Sore throat test and treat is a service offered, and allows the pharmacist to assess your symptoms and where appropriate, swab your throat. This test will tell the pharmacist if the infection is bacterial or viral.

WILL I GET A THROAT SWAB?
The pharmacist will ask you some questions to decide if you need a throat swab and complete a clinical assessment. Not everyone will need a throat swab and if your answers suggest it's likely a viral infection, a swab may not be necessary. If a swab is required, you will need to wait a few minutes to get your results.

WHAT HAPPENS IF I GET A POSITIVE TEST?
A positive test means your sore throat is likely caused by a bacterial infection however this does not always mean antibiotics are needed and it may be suitable to manage with painkillers and advice alone, depending on your symptoms.
The pharmacist will discuss with you the options around managing your sore throat.

WHEN WILL I GET BETTER?
Sore throat (viral or bacterial) in most cases will resolve on its own. 40% of cases will resolve within 3 days and 85% of cases will resolve within 1 week without treatment.

WHO IS NOT SUITABLE FOR THIS SERVICE?

- Children under the age of 6 years old.
- People with persistent symptoms that haven't improved after 1 week.
- People with a weakened immune system.
- A high temperature not controlled with paracetamol or ibuprofen.
- People with certain medical conditions.
- People who have had 5 or more episodes in the last year.

If you're not sure just ask a member of the pharmacy team and they should be able to let you know if you are suitable.

Inappropriate or irresponsible use of the NHS Wales Identity concerns patients and the public and can damage the NHS's reputation. Please follow the do's and don'ts below, when using the NHS Wales logo on information relating to the NHS services you provide. Queries regarding the content of patient information about your NHS services should be directed to your Local Health Board.

Do:

- Only use the NHS Wales logo on information relating to the NHS services you provide, and to signpost patients and the public to them.
- Use the NHS Wales logo in proportion to the amount of NHS services you provide, compared to your other private (i.e. non-NHS funded) products and services.
- Make it clear who is eligible for NHS funded services (e.g. NHS flu jabs, NHS eye tests, NHS domiciliary eye tests).
- Make it clear that people have a choice over the GP, pharmacy, dentist and optometry practice they choose to use.
- Follow applicable laws and industry codes of practice for promotional activity when communicating about the NHS services you provide.

Don't:

- Use the NHS Wales logo to cross-sell or up-sell the other private (i.e. non-NHS funded) products and services you provide.
- Use the word 'free' irresponsibly in relation to NHS services. Whilst there may be no cost to the individual receiving the NHS service, there is still a cost to the NHS. The word 'free' should not be used in a way which encourages unnecessary use of NHS services.
- Mislead patients and the public in communications about NHS primary care services through inaccuracy, ambiguity, exaggeration, omission or otherwise. For example, envelopes for direct mail promoting NHS services can carry the NHS Wales logo bottom right, but should also carry your name/logo. The envelopes should not include phrases such as 'Private and confidential', 'Addressee only', 'Contains important information' etc. as these phrases could mislead patients or cause concern. For example, people might be expecting appointment letters for important tests or treatment or be waiting for vital test results.
- Undermine the reputation of other primary care contractors in your communications about the NHS services.

Welsh language requirements for primary care contractors

In Wales, the Welsh language has official status alongside English, and there are specific guidelines and legal requirements for its use in healthcare settings. These are rooted in the Welsh Language Act 1993 and the Welsh Language (Wales) Measure 2011, which ensure that Welsh speakers have access to services in their language.

The Welsh Language Standards, set out by the Welsh Government, require public bodies, including health boards, to provide services in Welsh. This includes:

- Providing the option for patients to receive information in Welsh.
- Ensuring staff can communicate in Welsh when requested, either directly or through Welsh-speaking staff members.
- Offering Welsh language versions of documents, such as appointment letters, leaflets, and prescriptions.

The National Health Service (Welsh Language in Primary Care Services) (Miscellaneous Amendments) (Wales) Regulations 2019 states that:

1. The contractor must make available a Welsh language version of any document or form for use by patients and/or members of the public, provided by the Local Health Board.
2. Where the contractor displays a new sign or notice in connection with pharmaceutical services or general ophthalmic services the text on the sign or notice must be in English and Welsh.
3. Contractors may utilise the translation service offered by the Local Health Board for this purpose.
